

Storytelling

reflect

think

contemplate

rejoice

When creating any design you want the person experiencing it to be drawn into its story or receive the proper message. What's important is that you give the viewer something they can relate to and understand. Each of the icons reveals an emotion or action.