principles start

Designs principles are rules that guide a designer in producing effective designs. They are based on human perceptions and interactions. Applying design principles will create work that communicates the desired message and will offer a professional and reliable product. We are surrounded by design that impacts every part of our lives. Good design can save us time, help us understand the complex, and enjoy what we love even more.